Metro to Receive Donation from CEA for “Green” Policing

Metro’s Convention Center Area Command will soon be leaving a smaller carbon footprint thanks to the Consumer Electronics Association (CEA)®. CEA is donating $50,000 to the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department to purchase T-3 Motion electric vehicles and accessories.

The T-3 Motion is a 3-wheel personal mobility vehicle on which the driver stands. It will allow officers to move with agility and speed while working in tight, crowded areas.

“The Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department is excited to partner with CEA in deploying ‘green’ environmentally-friendly vehicles as part of our tourist corridor policing plan,” said Capt. Charles Hank. “We feel the addition of the electric vehicles funded by CEA will assist us in helping us strive to achieve our Vision ‘To be the safest community in America as well as the ‘Safest Tourist destination in the World.’”

The donation is part of CEA’s commitment to making “the world’s coolest trade show” green. For more news about the greening of the 2010 International CES, visit www.CESweb.org/green.

Media outlets are invited to attend as President & CEO of CEA (CES) Gary Shapiro presents the check for $50,000 for the electric vehicles to Captain Charles Hank. The presentation will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 5th at 8:30 a.m. at Convention Center Area Command, 750 Sierra Vista. A vendor from T-3 Motion will also be on site with a demo T-3 electric vehicle.
