COLLISION DETAILS:

On January 4, 2010 at approximately 8:07 p.m., a single vehicle fixed object traffic accident occurred in the 2500 block of North Nellis Boulevard. Evidence at the scene and a witness indicate the moped was southbound on Nellis Boulevard in the right of three southbound travel lanes. For unknown reasons the rider lost control of the moped, struck the west curb, jumped the sidewalk and struck a wooden utility pole. The rider was transported to University Medical Center where he was admitted in critical condition. It appears failure to maintain a travel lane is the cause of this accident. This accident remains under investigation by the LVMPD Accident Investigation Section.
