Ganci reversed his vehicle and rammed the Nissan three more times in an attempt to escape.

Due to the time of day, the streets were crowded with motorists. At times, the speeds of the pursuit were in excess of 80 miles per hour. Ganci showed no regard for the safety of others as he drove at high rates of speed and cut across numerous streets. Eventually, marked patrol units assisted in the pursuit.

Ganci drove to the corner of Main Street and Carson Avenue where the truck ran out of gas and stopped. Ganci was taken into custody by several officers without further incident. Arresting officers provided Ganci with emergency medical aid before he was transported to UMC Trauma Center for treatment for his gunshot wound. Ganci was eventually released from the hospital, and taken back to CCDC and rebooked for multiple felony crimes.

Three distinct gunshots were heard, a white pickup truck rear-ended vehicles stopped on both sides of Maryland Parkway before continuing north on Maryland Parkway. The stopped vehicles began to move forward, again hitting vehicles as it continued.

A surveillance camera mounted on the north side of the 7-Eleven and facing northwest captured footage of a white pickup truck hitting vehicles from behind that were stopped at the red traffic light.
